30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

This week we have the last days of October with Halloween, and then we celebrate all the Saints on November 1st, and we pray for All Souls on November 2nd. At every Mass our prayers always include our family members who died, but in November we pray for them in particular, we visit graves and cemeteries. Halloween with its cultural tendency keeps promoting the - scary and dark- characters, but in All Saints we celebrate -all light and bright- Saints- characters that bring us closer to God and it's light. We just need to remember, that all cultures have references to the- dark and scary- but the important thing is to balance it with the- good and happy- that is the ultimate winner in Christian tradition.

We pray for All Souls whom we entrust to divine mercy, asking God for their quick admission to heaven if they should be in purgatory for any reason of unrepented sins, or any unfinished business or injustice of this life that would hold them back until the proper reparation is done by others for their intentions. We are encouraged to pray and to make sacrifices and offerings on behalf of faithful departed asking God's mercy for them. The best spiritual gift that we can give them, is to offer a Mass intention for them and we can do it for the novena of Masses for All Souls, or individually for a particular person now, or even multiple times during the year, for example on their birthday or the day of passing away. Our remembrance is our expression of our love for them and our desire to be in communion with them after we should die. As we pray for them, the faithful departed do intercede for our acquiring heaven. It's called - Communion of Saints - Communion with those who are before God already.

In the Gospel of this Sunday, we have found Jesus making it simple as possible for us, to comprehend the requirements of salvation: to love God and our neighbor as oneself. That is the summary of the teaching of the Bible. This is in shortest terms what we need to do to be saved. To give space to God in our life, to seek God's mercy and to treat others with kindness it is a way of salvation, it is a way of responding to Christ and to God's revelation of love. It seems as simple as it can be, and in fact it is not too difficult for anyone to do it. It's enough to admit our need for God, and to open our heart to others in kindness. It seems so easy and it requires only a little of good will. Sometimes we may be making our lives very complicated, or difficult in our relationships, but it could be very simple if we wanted it.

Lord, help us to respond to the simplicity of the Gospel call. As you said: you didn't come to be served but to serve and to give your life as a ransom for many ", so please help us to have the same attitude and approach to life so we could be worthy of your love and of heaven. It's so simple, and I will not complicate it by more explanation.

God bless everyone !!!

God bless America !!!

From the Deacon's Bench

By Deacon John

Once again the seasons of the year continue to prompt us forward. Summer is a distant, if not hot and humid memory, as we turn now to the fall of this year. Just like the annual seasons change, so to does the liturgical year continue to change.

In just a few weeks really, we begin Advent! Advent begins our new church year, and preparation for the Feast of Christmas. With all the gift giving, it's a good thing to take a step back and help prepare our selves for the Birth of the Savior and perhaps give our selves a gift along the way. Beginning November 9, 2017 and lasting approximately 8 sessions, we will have the opportunity to share in our next Bible Study here at St. Anne's. This time we are going back a long way into our shared history and will study the Prophet Jeremiah.

Jeremiah (who was not a Bull Frog – anyone remember that song?), lived in a time of great fear, uncertainty, intrigue, wars and rumors of war, personal attacks as a result of what you believe in, faith and the lack of faith. Sounds kind of like 2017 doesn't it?

Your study of this great man of faith, this hero of Israel, will help acquaint you with the life and times of our "Elder Brothers and Sisters of faith, the Jewish People" (Pope Saint John Paul II said that!). It is only knowing where we came from that we can really know who we are, and how we come to believe what we do in Jesus Christ.

This study is for everyone. If you are a veteran of bible study or if you never have picked up the Good Book, you are invited. At our first session on 11/9/17 at 7pm in the large room in the rectory basement. That night, I will give an overview of the Prophet's writing, discuss what prophecy is and what's it not. Detail the people we will meet and the places we will go in our studies. That said, I will also give an overview of how to begin studying the bible some tips and tools to assist you. In other words we have a "basic training" to get you up and running. If you have a bible, bring it along. If not, no worries, materials are available.

Please consider joining us as we prepare our selves for Christmas, we all know how hectic it will be and how often we say we need to slow things down. Here is your opportunity to do just that. Please feel free to stop me with any questions you may have! You must register at the Parish Office we a limited in space.

BRIDGE for PEACE

St. Anne's Church

NOVEMBER 9TH—7:00P.M.

In 1986, at thirty-four years of age, Annette was suddenly stricken with pain in her hands, knees and ankles. The diagnosis was rheumatoid arthritis. As the pain, weakness and fatigue increased she was prescribed medication which was moderately successful in relieving the symptoms. The condition forced her to reduce her work schedule as a sales manager for a Wall Street financial firm so she could avoid the commute from Long Island to New York City and be able to work from home.

In late 1987, desperate for help, she and her husband, Ed, attended a healing service at St Francis de Sales in Patchogue. Nothing changed immediately, but about a week later she began to notice a difference. Seven months later, she was totally free from arthritis. She resumed her work schedule in the spring of 1988. Several weeks later she was injured in a disabling automobile accident which left her bedridden with back pain, heavily concussed and with seizures, but she remained free of the crippling arthritis.

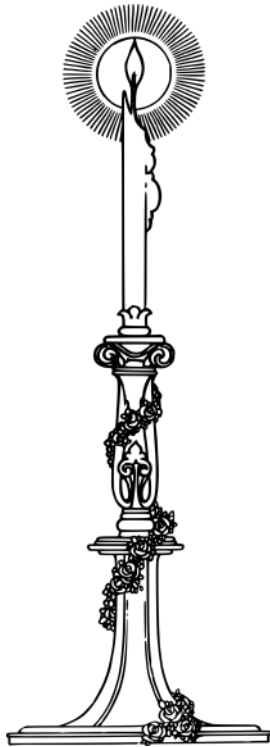

Seeking help from God she attended a home prayer group, healing services, and bible studies. Very slowly, her condition began to improve. It would be several years before she would be able to sit for long periods of time. Through prayer and study, Annette and Ed felt called by God to open a healing center. This was the beginning of Bridge for Peace and they began to make plans to purchase property in Wading River, NY for this purpose.

Annette was invited to speak about her own healing of rheumatoid arthritis at churches, conferences and retreats in the United States. In 1992, Ed's work through World Mission Crafts brought them to Pakistan where they assisted an oriental rug cooperative. They spent time speaking to and encouraging the Christian community, many of whom were experiencing persecution for their beliefs. In 2000, they were invited to Australia by a couple who had a healing ministry. Ministering with the Catholic Charismatic Renewal in churches and prayer groups, they witnessed many healings. After several trips, Bridge for Peace Australia was born.

In 1998 Ed & Annette began the first of the Rome Prayer Walks. We raise intercessors here in the US and around the world to pray for priests. We travel to Rome each February to pray for and encourage student priests that are studying in Rome. Currently there are about 25 student priest that are in the prayer group Bridge for Peace Rome. Most are in St Paul's and St Peters Collegios.

In 2006 Bridge for Peace began ministry in Uganda where it is now building an orphanage on land donated to them by the Catholic Diocese of Kasese. In 2007, Bridge for Peace Brazil was founded. There are also Bridge for Peace groups in Queens Village, NY, Kentucky and Ohio. They have ministered in Diocese of Arusha, Tanzania and will be returning there soon. In conjunction with Bridge for Peace RaphaEl Medical Mission, they have for the past 9 years complete 50 surgeries per year at no charge and brought healing to people in Zambia.

In twenty-five years, there have been over one hundred to twenty-three nations on all continents.

Tu aimeras Dieu et tu aimeras ton prochain

Comme le rappelle la première lecture, La Bible ne cesse d'engager le peuple élu à accueillir l'immigre, à prendre soin de la veuve, de l'orphelin et du pauvre, à refuser l'usure et la confiscation des biens d'autrui. Dans l'Évangile d'aujourd'hui, Jésus rattache tous ces préceptes à l'amour de Dieu et du prochain. Non seulement le second commandement est semblable au premier; il en est inséparable. Notre monde serait-il ce qu'il est avec ses inégalités et ses exclusions, si les chrétiens mettaient le double commandement de l'amour au premier plan de leurs préoccupations? En particulier, l'humanité déborde aujourd'hui de migrants de toutes sortes: travailleurs émigrés, réfugiés politiques, personnes déplacées ou laissé-pour-compte. Comment les regardons-nous? Les deux commandements sont semblables, urgents, mais ne sont pas interchangeables. Il faut donc satisfaire aux deux commandements à la fois, si l'on veut observer un parfaitement. En eux se résument la Lio et les prophètes.
